

Kissaluv

There aren't nappies, they're diapers. That's because they are from the US. Everyone raves about the fleece's softness, comfort and durability. Not only are they soft on arrival but remain soft and warm after a heap of washes. They are fitted with elastic waists and, of course, are better for the environment.

They make take a bit longer to get here but they are certainly worth the wait.

kissaluv.com

